LEGAL LOG - JUNE 1985

By William C. Smith

This month the Legal Log takes the opportunity to remind law enforcement officers of our intent and purpose and to solicit your observations and comments.

Every month the legal staff of the South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy endeavors to provide up-to-date and practical information for the law enforcement officers of South Carolina in the area of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure. Our efforts are directed towards the officer on the street whose "need to know" should be the foremost concern of every department. That "need to know" will, of course, vary from department to department according to the principal law enforcement function of the department. In keeping with our desire to address issues important to every department in the state, your input as to what issues you would like to see discussed is very important. Likewise, it is crucial that all officers of the department have access to the articles prepared for the Legal Log. Following this is an index to all previous issues of this publication. These past issues are listed by date and topic. Issues missing from your departmental files may be obtained by forwarding to the Attorney's Office of the Criminal Justice Academy (5400 J. P. Strom Blvd., Columbia, SC 29210) a postage paid envelope addressed to the Training Officer, or other person responsible for legal updates. We will forward to you those copies which you are missing.

In an effort to better disseminate information on legal matters that affect law enforcement officers, we are pleased to present to you the LEGAL LOG.

This publication will be made available to you on a regular basis.

Your comments and suggestions for future issues are solicited. Correspondence should be addressed to Legal Log, 5400 Broad River Rd., Columbia, S.C. 29210
